

COHESION AWARD WINNERS – NOVEMBER 2024

Bobby-Lee Ashworth: 1st Place – Prize Draw :

He is showing a great attitude towards his course, producing amazing work and also helping others when they need it. He has great attendance and a great work ethic.

Roudina and Roukaia Elfeky: 2nd Place – Prize Draw: They have been putting in a lot of time with underrepresented girls, supporting them as scout leaders. This translates into college life, as they are always supportive and helpful towards their classmates and teaching staff.

Jorja Lee Godsmark: 3rd Place – Prize Draw: she has improved her attendance and is now producing some really good work in class.

Marika Finka: She has responded to feedback, shown a positive attitude to learning and settled into college very well.

Corey Rawlinson - He is so patient and support with other students, always making sure they are safe getting into and out of the Taxis. He is such a thoughtful young man.

Tyler Lomas Jones: He showed great resilience in difficult circumstances.

Kaitlin Marsden: She demonstrated that she is a caring and supportive friend.

Millie Yates: She has had an excellent start to her college journey during term 1. 100% attendance and punctuality with a positive attitude and approach to everything. She volunteered to be one of the learner voice representatives for her group and shared their views accurately and honestly despite not necessarily agreeing with them. Through Millie's discussions some real change was instigated.

Isabelle Shuttleworth: She is a great student who consistently attends and gives 100% and her attendance is also 100%.

Cameron Hughes: He has just been offered a work placement with BAE. He has not given up and been persistent in trying to obtain this placement which has resulted in a successful offer.
